

Health Policy Journalism and A Novel View of the Bureaucracy

Presenters: Jack Waterford, Editor in Chief, The Canberra Times and

Frank Moorehouse, Writer

When: Tuesday 13 September 2005, 12.30 – 1.45pm

Where: Reception Room, ACT Legislative Assembly, London Circuit, Canberra City

All welcome, registration not required.

For further information contact

Kerryn Hunter Office of the Chief Health Officer

Phone: 6205 0883
kerryn.hunter@act.gov.au

To view the proposed 2005 seminar program,
or the transcripts and slide presentations
from previous years
seminars, please visit the ANU Centre for Health Stewardship website at:
[http://healthstewardship.
anu.edu.au/](http://healthstewardship.anu.edu.au/)

The purpose of the seminars is to generate debate among health professionals, departmental staff, academics and researchers in the ACT about strategic developments in public health.

Each seminar will run for 90 minutes. There will be presentations by two speakers on a health stewardship topic, one of which will have a research or theoretical focus, the other a more local, practical focus, followed by a short discussion.

